“ I am sorry to hear about Leo's passing. I didn't know him personally, but have fond memories of him as a kid when he was on the milk route. He was a generous guy. One of his stops was the Little Store. He gave us a 1/2 pint of chocolate milk a couple of times when we 1st met outside the store. After that, when we saw him there we woul say "I thirsty!" and he would respond "I'm Leo!", sometimes throwing us a a milk and sometimes not. I cannot say how many times I have used that same response throughout my life. That little bit of him is forever etched in my mind. Now that I think of it, I'm thirsty! And you will forever be Leo! Thank you.
