Stephen (Steve) Windschitl, died peacefully in his home in Arcadia, Iowa on January 29, 2024 surrounded by his wife and chief health advocate of 45 years, Rebecca Windschitl, and his devoted caregivers.

Stephen was born in Superior, Wisconsin on May 29, 1958 to Cletus and Valerie Windschitl, the third in a large Catholic family of seven siblings including his four brother and two sisters. Just before he graduated from Kuemper High School in Carroll, IA on April 6, 1976, Steve was involved in an accident that altered the course of his life and profoundly touched the lives of his immediate and extended family, his friends, his wife and her extended family, as well as the caregivers who tended to Steve throughout his adult life.

Steve loved competitive sports. In his younger years enjoyed coaching T-ball to the younger children. In high school he found a passion for wrestling. Over time he was an avid Vikings fan, rooting for his team from his armchair. He supported his wife's career teaching music in Carroll and the surrounding communities by attending perennial concerts while he was able, and being a happy presence for students waiting for lessons in the All Strings Attached music studio when he was there. He loved reading Louis L'Amour books in his younger adult life, and had a keen appreciation for and encyclopedic memory of the Star Wars and Star Trek series throughout his life. He loved words, and was a whiz with word search puzzles, often creating his own and sending them to family. Most of all, he loved spending time and playing checkers with his dad, Clete, often for hours during strategic matches.

It is said that the measure of a man is not so much by his accomplishments but how the events of a life reveal who he is. Steve made clear to everyone in his orbit that the purpose of his life was other people. He was endowed at the age of 18 with the gifts of the spirit which he shared with others every day of his life: the deep wisdom of love, the kindness of understanding, the fortitude of patience beyond endurance, the generosity of forgiveness and of smiles and laughter, and a knowledge communicated by his very being that the Holy Spirit was with him daily.

Steve was preceded in death by his beloved father, Clete, and his older brother John and nephew Jeremiah Windschitl. He is survived by his wife Rebecca Windschitl of Arcadia, mother Valerie Windschitl of Ames, Ia; siblings Dr. Mark (Dr. Pam Joseph) Windschitl of Seattle; Dawn Windschitl (John) of Des Moines, Ia; Martha (Mark) Royer of Ames, IA; Chris (Jody) Windschitl of Lake City, IA; Gretchen (Roy) Janssen of Ames, IA; and Dr. Paul (Tricia) Windschitl of Iowa City, IA, and 30 nieces and nephews.

“ The three years that I spent with Steve for educational and not just in the education form of the word. I learned how to be humble I learned how to accept what life throws at you I learned that you can still have fun when you can't get up and go have fun. I learned so many things from him and I'll retain those nuggets of knowledge that I got from him rest in peace Steve

“ Steve was my one and only giggle-buddy in this life. We would just look at one another and laugh. Sometimes these fits would overcome us at the most inopportune times, and we'd both end up on the floor weak and helpless with laughter. As I think of him now, tears with a big belly laugh bubble up. Love and miss you so much. Sarah Witte

“ I've only met Steve several times but one thing I noticed was how genuinely happy he would be doing simple things such as watching movies/sports and interacting with the many pets that surrounded him at home. He had a wonderful smile and he surely will be missed. R Bak

“ So loved getting to know Steve, we shared a lot through the years that I knew him and his wife Becky. We spent many hours together, putting puzzles together, playing cards, checkers and most of all watching movies. I was blessed with a lot of DVD's and Steve would pick out the ones he wanted to watch from my list. So proud to have gotten to know him. God Bless you Steve, you will be truly missed.
